Diversity Statement

At EVolution & EVUp, our values stem from the belief that the future of electric vehicle technology is diverse.

The EV sector is a rapidly expanding field, with the potential for a multitude of opportunities for people from all walks of life and all backgrounds.

If you're a woman, person of colour, from the LGBTQIA+ community or living with a disability and you're interested in electric vehicles or the future of related technology, we strongly encourage general or business inquiries, or applications for available positions.
